

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF YSRTL

Dear friends,

As we approach the 42nd year of Roe vs Wade I recall thinking that just educating people of the beautiful development of the unborn would cause this court decision to be overturned and all this abortion non-sense would go away. Years later the deception of the Pro Abortion thinking has become more and more twisted, yet the Pro-Life family's dedication keeps growing. Through all of this, I like to reflect on how God is drawing His faithful together and unifying us through this most important work.

This past year many in our community stood up for Life; nearly 170 went to San Francisco for the West Coast Walk for Life; many worked at the Yuba Sutter Fair in our Pro-Life booth and engaged in life giving conversations, explained the development of the unborn via a DVD; and recently the "40 Days for Life" Campaign brought us together to pray in front of Planned Parenthood. Much literature was handed out and we had some very rewarding conversations. As you can read in the article about the 40 Days for Life – the successes have been many.

Please pray that in this coming year we continue to grow in our unity and trust that the fruits of our labor will be plentiful. Remember, "In Him who is the source of my strength I have strength for everything."

To you and yours – Merry Christmas and God's blessings in the New Year!

P.S. Don't miss this year's West Coast Walk for Life January 24th – come join us!

The Appointment is a new pro-life short film (6:33) directed by filmmaker Brandon Rice which gives a unique view on the issue of abortion. The film is not overtly Christian or blatantly pro-life in order to appeal to a wider audience and thereby spread the message further. Watch the film by clicking on the link below and be sure to share with your friends!!

IN THE NEWS:

November 21, 2014—London, England (LifeSiteNews.com) A young mother is speaking out after her contraceptive pill caused her to have a catastrophic stroke, leaving her as helpless as her 5-month old baby girl.

Donna Watson was just 26 when she began taking Rigevidon, an oral contraceptive, following the birth of her daughter. "I thought I was doing a good thing by taking the Pill," Watson told the U.K.'s Daily Mail. But within two months of starting the drug, she suffered a massive stroke, which doctors said was caused by her hormonal birth control, which had raised her blood pressure and caused two large blood clots to form in her brain stem.

A spokesman for the U.K.'s Stroke Association told the Daily Mail, "[The hormones in the Pill] ...increase the likelihood of the blood clotting and this may increase your risk of stroke." He added, "[A] stroke can hit you out of nowhere and rob you of your speech, your ability to walk, your memory, your independence and your dignity. This devastating condition kills three times as many women as breast cancer every year."

Watson said, "I had no idea something like this would happen to me—I wasn't made aware. I think nurses should tell people more about the risks and effects the Pill can have. I really regretted taking that one little tablet. I will never take the Pill again."

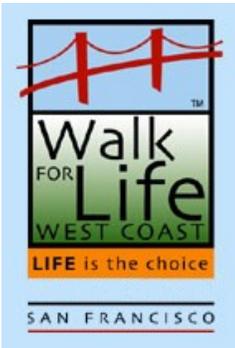

November 19, 2014—Washington, D.C. (LifeNews.com) In her latest book, There Was a Little Girl, Brooke Shields writes that, when her mother became pregnant with her, her boyfriend's father (Brooke's grandfather) explained to her mother how an out-of-wedlock birth could jeopardize her father's standing on the "Social Registry." Her granddad even went so far as to give her mother money for the abortion (This was pre Roe v. Wade). Instead of visiting an abortionist, her mother went to antique store and used the money to buy a coffee table. Shields remarks that the table ironically became a favorite of hers, which she used to pull herself up from the floor as a toddler. She writes, "The table saved my life and helped me to stand."

How many stars have been lost to abortion? You might think it's impossible to count, but actually the number is more than 56 million. For every child who is aborted is a star in God's galaxy—every single life has value and dignity.

November 19, 2014—Washington, D.C. (LifeNews.com) Repeatedly stonewalled by the Obama Administration on questions of abortion transparency in the Affordable Care Act, pro-life leaders are taking matters into their own hands to inform consumers which ObamaCare plans include coverage of abortion on demand and which do not. Since October of 2013, the Charlotte Lozier Institute has reported on the lack of transparency and generally confusing nature of the exchange plans. This summer, the non-partisan government watchdog agency, the Government Accountability Office \(GAO\), released a report identifying 1,036 ObamaCare plans that cover abortion on demand and receive taxpayer subsidies. To find out whether or not your plan covers abortion, visit the website ObamacarAbortion.com and click on your state.

November 17, 2014—Nairobi, Kenya (LifeNews.com) In Paul Ehrlich's crude fantasy, The Population Bomb "compulsory birth regulation" was to be achieved by polluting the water supply with "mass sterilizing agents." But more sophisticated population controllers dreamed of a contraceptive vaccine that would, with the stick of a needle, sterilize women for years, or a lifetime. This dream became a reality in the early 1990s, when researchers learned that mixing human chorionic gonadotropin (beta-HCG) with tetanus toxoid resulted in a vaccine that not only protected women against tetanus, but when given in a series, could be used to render them infertile as well. But in order to trick a woman's immune system into successfully attacking her own beta-HCG—the pregnancy hormone without which any babies she conceived could not survive—a series of five injections was required instead of the usual two or three. There was only one problem: most women in the developing world would not voluntarily submit to be vaccinated against

40 DAYS FOR LIFE

Since 2007, 40 Days for Life has witnessed:

- 9,699 lives have been spared from abortion that we know of
- 107 abortion workers have quit their job and walked away from the abortion industry
- 59 abortion facilities have completely shut down as a result of 40 Days for Life campaigns
- Many post-abortive men and women have come forward to begin healing and recovery

A big THANK YOU to all those who joined us at the sidewalk praying for an end to abortion! Keep an eye out for our monthly vigils at Planned Parenthood and join us for one hour as we pregnancy. They regarded their fertility as a gift, and children as a blessing. So the population controllers at the United Nations—for the good of humanity of course—came up with a plan. They would carry out "tetanus vaccination campaigns" among young women in developing countries without informing them that they were being vaccinated against pregnancy at the same time. Such campaigns were reportedly carried out in Mexico in 1993, the Philippines and Nicaragua in 1994, and in Peru the following year. In each case, the local doctors raised questions about why it was necessary to give a series of five vaccinations against tetanus rather than the usual two or three. They also observed that women who had been vaccinated miscarried in large numbers or were unable to conceive at all. Finally, tests carried out by Catholic doctors in Peru and the Philippines showed that the World Health Organization (WHO) vaccines were tainted with beta-HCG, results that the WHO brushed off as accidental contamination.

Now the same UN agencies are back, carrying out the same kind of vaccination program on the young women of Kenya. But this time, the Kenyan Catholic Medical Association, and the Kenya Conference of Catholic Bishops are calling them out. In October 2014, the Catholic Church acquired several vials of the vaccine which were sent to four unrelated laboratories in Kenya and abroad and found it was indeed laced with the Beta-HCG hormone. A statement signed by all 27 Kenyan bishops, condemns the WHO/UNICEF tetanus vaccination campaign because they "are convinced that it is indeed a disguised population control program" and are calling upon all Kenyans to avoid the tetanus vaccination campaign.

THANK YOU to El Central Restaurant for storing our signs during 40 Days for Life! PLEASE support them in any way you can!
